DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 5 is objected to because of the following informalities: on line 2, "transition" should be "transmission". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

> Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because it must have acceptable language for a computer-processing related claim, such as "a computer readable medium encoded with instructions capable of being executed by a computer".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

> The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claim 7 recites the limitation "the computer program product" in line 5. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

7. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Banerjee et al., US Patent Application Publication Number 2003/0061364 (hereinafter Banerjee).

Regarding claims 1, 3, 7, and 8, Banerjee discloses a communication management system comprising: a server device; and a mobile terminal device capable of communicating with the server device via a mobile telecommunication carrier network, wherein the mobile terminal device includes: a wireless communication unit which communicates with another terminal device by wireless communication without passing through the mobile telecommunication carrier network; an application which executes a process including the wireless communication by the wireless communication unit; and a control unit which determines whether or not the application is proper, and permits an execution of the wireless communication by the application only when the application is proper [paragraphs 0025, 0034, 0037, 0040].

Regarding claims 2, 5, and 6, Banerjee discloses the control unit includes: a communication amount detecting unit which detects a packet communication amount of the wireless communication by the wireless communication unit; and a status information transmission unit which obtains status information indicating an execution condition of the wireless communication and including identification information of the mobile terminal device, identification information of the application and the packet communication amount, and transmits the status information to the server device via the mobile telecommunication carrier network, and wherein the server device generates charge information relating to the wireless communication by the mobile terminal device based on the status information [paragraphs 0046-0050, 0056].

Regarding claim 4, Banerjee discloses application includes certification information indicating that the application is proper, and wherein the control unit uses the certification information to determine whether or not the application is proper [paragraphs 0055-0057].

Regarding claim 9, Banerjee discloses an obtaining unit which obtains the application via the mobile telecommunication carrier network [paragraph 0048].

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure: Paila et al., US Patent Application Publication Number 2004/0072557.
